CombiCard II - Enclosure System

is an outstanding enclosure concept not only because all of its components can be assembled without using any tools at all, but also because of the high degrees of protection it offers, IP 66. To meet VDE regulations, tools must be used when dismantling the enclosures. To allow the CombiCard II enclosure generation to adapt to any space requirements there are 39 different components in three widths. They can be connected using a tension-lever hinge lock to form a great variety of possible designs. Special subracks are available from stock to mount plug-in cards, in addition, Bopla offers a wide range of accessories to supplement CombiCard II in many useful ways.

Of course the Bopla service includes machining, printing and EMC operations as well.
