Solderless Breadboard, 400 Tie-points, with Bus Strip

The Global Specialties economically-priced solderless breadboarding sockets connect easily by way of molded key tabs to other economy line breadboarding sockets, or bus strips. Most economy line sockets come with colored numbers, allowing for convenient and easy viewing of circuit connections. Global's solderless breadboards can be used to experiment and design a multitude of analog and digital circuits, as well as test fixture and prototyping applications. Sockets are made of ABS plastic and phosphor-bronze contacts.
