Count your calories
Complementing your steps and distance, the TREK range also displays the number of calories burned during your everyday activity.

With you every step
The TREK range tracks your steps throughout the day keeping you focused on your daily goals.

Because sleep is important
The TREK range measures the quality and length of sleep each night, and helps you better understand your sleep patterns.

Measure distance traveled
Know how far you have walked, or ran, each hour, day, week or month, from your activities. Providing a better understanding of your exercise goals.

Helping you stay in touch
Never miss a notification from your smart phone whilst on the move, with Caller ID, SMS, and email alerts straight to your TREK device.

Drive and motivation
Invite your friends to compare progress on activities, to encourage and motivate you towards your performance goals.

Time and Date
The HI-TEC Trek Lite shows the time and date on the screen so you don't have to wear your watch at the same time.

More than activity tracking
The TREK range allows you to control your smart phone features and functions. Control your music, get weather alerts, and much more.
