Additional Capacity

Description of Changes

To better support our customers delivery expectations, TE will be adding a line capacity for the part numbers listed below. While the product will continue to run in the current manufacturing location, it is our desire to add capacities for plating of these part numbers at one of our TE Americas Automotive outside suppliers and thus dual source the components.

Reason for Changes:

Product improvement. These efforts will position us better to serve your future needs. The outside supplier operates under a certified quality management system in accordance with standard automotive requirements.
