Dear Valued Partner,

Greetings and Happy New Year! As you may know, we began transitioning many of our legacy signal tower series models to the new LR Signal Tower Series over the last 2 years. The LCE series is the last of this transition and as of 1/1/2019, all LCE series models has been officially discontinued and production of this series has ceased.

All orders for the LCE series models from this point on will be fulfilled in order received (non-cancellable, non-returnable) until stock is depleted. Current stock status can be viewed on the PATLITE Price and Delivery Portal (pd.patlite.com).

Replacement Model: LR4 Signal Tower Series

The LR Signal Tower Series is the new replacement for the discontinued legacy models. The LR Series is our next generation signal tower line with enhanced features, the latest indication technology and a wide selection of options for a diverse range of applications. Each model series (LR4-LR7) features standardized parts which allows us to reduce prices, provide shorter leads times and makes ordering replacement parts easier than ever. We are confident you and your customers will be pleased with this offering.
