Detailed description of the change

Dear Sir or Madam,

It is our aim to provide you with state-of-the-art products for your application that feature leading technology. That is why it can be necessary to phase out some components from the product range from time to time for commercial or technical reasons.

Some of these products were developed more than 20 years ago and have been used with great success ever since. However, that makes it all the more difficult to procure components for them. Some of these components were discontinued by the respective manufacturers years ago. We were able to stockpile a certain quantity of components at that time.

However, given the current order volume, that stock will be exhausted sooner than planned, which is why we have to move up the scheduled discontinuation. Redesigning these products is not economically feasible. Therefore, this correspondence is notice of the discontinuation of the items listed in the attachment.
