General Description of Changes
The production for the JWD/JWS reed relays series will be transferred from China to Indonesia.

Reason for Changes:
Our PBL supplier has suddenly decided to relocate production in response to market demand changes and capacity adjustments to better align with customer needs and expectations. To ensure supply continuity during this transition, we strongly recommend you to place Last Time Buy orders by February 28 at the latest. This will help you to bridge your demand during the production transfer, which is expected to take 6-8 months.
