

Product Change Notice (PCN)

Subject: PhiClock Family Revision Update

Publication Date: 11/6/2020

Effective Date: 2/6/2021

Revision Description:

Revision 1

Description of Change:

This revised notice is to add additional affected orderable part numbers, which were inadvertently left out in the original PCN notice. The PCN effective date for the original PCN (PCN200009) is being reset to February 6th, 2021 based on this revised PCN publication date.

Device top metal will be updated. The top metal changes are:

1. Lowered minimum output frequency to 1MHz.
2. Changed internal pull-up to pull-down resistors on SEL0/SCL and SEL1/SDA pins to allow 3.3V I2C operation when VDDD (digital supply) is 1.8V. Customers using configuration 3 without external pull-up resistors will need to add them. No impact on I2C usage.
3. Improved power cycling capability at cold temperature conditions.

A new part number and datasheet is created for this change. New revision devices are available and released now.

Starting at the effective date of the PCN, the current part numbers will be de-activated and discontinued replaced by new ordering part numbers. The Last Time Buy (LTB) date for the current part numbers will be February 6th, 2021.

Affected Product List: Refer Appendix B.

Reason for Change:

To improve device robustness and operating conditions

Impact on Fit, Form, Function, Quality & Reliability:

There is no change on device pinout and operating temperature or voltage range. Characterization has been successfully completed.

Product Identification:

A new orderable part number with "C" in part# and an updated device top mark will distinguish this change.

Qualification Status: Qual by Similarity based on previous revision

Sample Availability Date: 11/6/2020

Device Material Declaration: Available upon request
