

Transistor Spring Clips End of Life Notification

August 1st, 2018

Dear Customer:

This notice is to inform you that Laird transistor spring clips will be transitioning through an end of life process. The last date to submit a purchase order for these clips will be February 1st, 2019 with a final ship date of April 1st, 2019.

The primary reason for implementing EOL status is because of limited demand. These items are legacy products that do not compliment our product portfolio, therefore we do not have any alternatives to offer.
