Before Picture

Before Change

- Presently Metal RM Part No. 990010586 (Grade C51900) is being sourced from Wieland and our requirement is increasing year on year based on customer demand.
- Due to market condition and based on demand versus supply Wieland confirmed that they can support with only 500 MT to Molex India in 2022 against which our requirement is of 800MT based on current forecast .
- Based on Wieland allocation it's decided to develop an additional source for above mention part numbers to meet customer demand and continuous supply of raw materials.
- Above change is applicable only to Molex India related FG's and customers.

After Change

- For long terms pursue and as a risk mitigation plan, we are planning to develop additional alternative vendor from existing Molex AVL Furukawa Sangyo (AX China).
- There is no change in grade (C51900) and part number this will be only addition of source to have continuous supplies.
- There would be no impact on the product fit, form & function as it is not a product change.
- Appropriate qualifications will be carried out as per Engineering DVPR and reports will be available. Based on the customer specific requirements it will be shared.
- Above change is applicable only to Molex India related FG's and customers.
- This change is applicable for both Molex 8204 & 8231 plant.
