PCN Overview

Description

NXP Product Line In-Vehicle Networking (PL IVN) is updating the datasheets of products TJA115x (x=2 or 3). Only additional information is provided and the datasheet descriptions have been improved. There is no change in product functionality or specification, with the exception of a single additional parameter condition and specification.

The datasheet's revision history specifies the changes. See the paragraph 'Remarks' below for instructions on how to obtain the new datasheets.

Applicable ZVEI Delta Qualification Matrix (DeQuMa) items are SEM-DS-01/02/03. There are NO changes made to the products and the datasheet changes properly describe the functionality and specifications of the products TJA115x as they have always been. Therefore, this change is appropriately communicated to customers by Customer Information Notification (CIN). The DeQuMa file is attached to this notification, in both zipped excel and pdf format. See the paragraphs 'Additional information' and 'Remarks' below for instructions on how to obtain this document.

Reason

NXP PL IVN is committed to properly and formally inform customers of any datasheet changes and/or updates.
