

RISER BLACK x3 Mark V

PCIe 5.0 x16 Riser Cable 128 GB/s

PCIe 5.0 x16 Riser Cable supports up to 128 GB/s bandwidth, designed for various GPU mounting in tight spaces. With strong EMI shielding and a flexible design, it ensures reliable performance and easy installation.

KEY FEATURES

Vertical GPU Mounting with Premium Connectivity

Save space and enhance airflow with our 90° PCIe connector, enabling a stylish vertical GPU mount that adds a clean, professional look to any build. The 180° riser cable features a high-quality PCB with gold-plated contacts and superior solder points, ensuring a strong, signal-loss-free connection for optimal performance.

Next Generation Riser Cable

Premium riser cable supporting the ultra-high speeds of PCIe 5.0 x16, which delivers up to 128 GB/s, double the bandwidth of PCIe 4.0. Ideal for stable, high-performance gaming systems and professional workstations.

Enhanced Signal Stability with Metal Shielding

The metal connector design effectively resists external signal interference, with enhanced EMI resistance to ensure stable connections. A larger copper contact area between the slot and graphics card further improves signal reliability.

Powerful EMI Shielding

EMI shielding eliminates interference and prevents performance degradation during data transmission, ensuring a stable connection with no signal loss at the full PCIe 5.0 x16 bandwidth.

Maximum Flexibility, Ultra-Thin Design

The super-thin, 4-wire ribbon design offers clean installation and maximum flexibility, fitting easily into tight spaces for efficient cable management. Compatible with Intel® and AMD motherboards.
