Product Discontinuation Notice of Humidity Sensor Product Series

We really thank you for your continued patronage of TDK products.
This letter is to inform you that TDK has decided to discontinue the production and sales of the Humidity Sensor Product Series we have been supplying.

We have been continuously working on improving productivity, reducing costs, and enhancing business operations.
However, due to rising manufacturing costs caused by recent increases in material costs, labor costs, and energy costs, as well as a decline in sales volume, we have concluded that it will be difficult to continue our business operations in the future.

We sincerely apologize for any inconvenience this discontinuation may cause and appreciate your kind understanding.
