STEADYTEC - this name stands for the future of connection technology for data and signal transmissions. STEADYTEC is an extremely reliable, extraordinarily practical, especially powerful and flexible connection system for various office and industrial applications.

The benefits for you:

- no tools required for customising in the field
- countless variations thanks to various combinations of inserts
- unlimited compatibility owing to conformity with IEC 61076-3-106
- reliable and durable thanks to diecast zinc
- industrial usage possible owing to class of protection IP 67
- simple ordering procedure and low inventory costs owing to Weidmüller's modular system

STEADYTEC is a registered trademark of the companies BTR NETCOM, Telegärtner and Weidmüller.
